Elections Hackdays 2015

#makeopendata

Politics and election data were at the centre of this hackathon. Designers, programmers, journalists, specialists and citizens of all backgrounds met on September 4 and 5, 2015, at Neue Zürcher Zeitung (NZZ) in Zurich and Le Temps in Lausanne.

in Lausanne, there was a warm-up event, the start of a regular meeting series for our French-speaking community

You can still join 66 makers in our Lausanne group and meet 22 of them tonight! #makeopendata meetu.ps/2KmGWG pic.twitter.com/ZoKVDPMvwz

Political data has been a big topic since the start of the association, and we had no trouble collecting exciting datasets thanks to support from the media and government

Our comrades in Lausanne outlined the rules: we meet, we freely explore questions of interest, we take what we can openly access and what we build will be of equal or higher degree of openness. Here we go!
